

Builder helps school

COURTESY

Dewhurst & Associates, a family-based custom home builder, recently donated 150 labor hours and materials to Bird Rock Elementary School in La Jolla. The team was called to action when CEO Dave Dewhurst heard about the trouble the school was having with exterior flooring. Dewhurst & Associates installed rubber mats to diminish the intensity of the sound and heat that the metal floors were emitting. Bird Rock Elementary School was able to utilize the funds that they would have spent on mat installation on their cultural arts program, teacher mini-grants and character education programs.
